TRAGIC ENDING

Of a Dance Held Near Oak Grove,

Man Shot to Death and Woman Perhaps Fatally Wounded--Slayer Escapes.

Henry Young, a negro in the Oak Grove neighborhood, killed a man and perhaps fatally shot a woman at a dance Friday night, on the premises of Mrs. Mattie G. Hopson. Nannie Moore, cook at Mrs. Hopson's, had been receiving the attentions of Henry Young but of late a railroad hand named Andrew Houston had become a formidable rival for the favors of the woman. Friday night they all met at a dance at the cabin of a tenant on Mrs. Hopson's place and the trouble came up about nine o'clock. The woman was outside of the house and told Young, who wanted to take her home, that Houston was going with her. This angered Young and he told her she should not go with Houston. This failed to change her purpose and he drew a pistol and shot her in the side. Houston ran out of the house and Young turned the pistol on him, shooting him in the face three times in quick succession. One ball entered his mouth and the others put out both of Houston's eyes. He fell dead in his tracks.

The woman was shot through the ball being cut out of the wound opposite to the point of entrance. The wound is almost necessarily fatal.

In the confusion following the shooting, Young made his escape.

INSTANT DEATH

For Six Men in Awful Head End Collision.

L. & N. Horror in Which Two Crews Are Almost Wiped Out.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 12.—Six men were instantly killed, one fatally hurt and another badly injured in a terrific head end collision between two heavily loaded freight trains on the Louisville and Nashville at Tifford's switch, just outside of New Hope, in Nelson county, at 3:50 o'clock this morning. One of the trains was a double header and the two crashed together in the dark with terrific force, catching the train men in the cabs and demolishing the engines, while freight car after freight car piled in a tangled mass over the bodies of the unfortunate members of the crews.

To add to the horror of the scene the cars took fire and in a few moments the wreckage was a roaring furnace, consuming the bodies of those buried beneath the debris and making their rescue an utter impossibility. The body of one of the victims was burned beyond recognition.

The dead are as follows: Engineer Moreland Graves, of No. 31; Engineer Martin Cannon of No. 31; Fireman A. H. Leach, of No. 31; Fireman Wm. Lyden, of No. 31; Engineer Sturgis, of No. 34; Fireman John Reynolds, of No. 34.

The injured are:

R. E. Hume, brakeman, jaw torn off and body mangled; dying.

J. A. Winkler, brakeman, not serious.

The scene of the disaster was appalling. The trains hit on a high embankment between New Haven and Louisville, near Tifford's switch. In a moment the engines and cars caught fire and when daylight came, there was only a smoldering mass of debris left of the three giant engines and thirteen cars. Five bodies of engineers and firemen lay in the ashes and were burned to a crisp. The first body found was hardly recognizable as that of a human being.

Buried under the shattered cars, and the steel and iron with the flames and boiling water all around them were the unfortunate trainmen. Men from the Belle of Nelson distillery were the first to reach the scene, and they went bravely to work to try to rescue some of the victims, although the fire made it perilous. To add to the horrors gunpowder contained in the cars exploded repeatedly. The first man taken out was Brakeman Hume, who is still alive. His jaw was torn away and he was fearfully burned. A moment after Hume was taken out there was an explosion at the very spot where he was lying.

The bodies of Graves, Cannon, Sturgis, Reynolds, Lyden and Leach were in a literal hell and were burned to a crisp.

EDITORS ACCEPT.

Invitation of Kentucky Exhibit Association.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8--Kentucky Day at the World's fair will be Thursday, June 2, 1904, and the Kentucky press Association will be present as the guests of the Kentucky Exhibit Association.
These two important matters were settled yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Press Association held at the Galt House here, where President A. Y. Ford and Secretary R. E.
Hughes, of the Exhibit Association renewed the invitation extended at the last annual meeting of the Press Association held at Lexington.

There were present the following editors: President Paul M. Moore of the Earlington Bee; Vice President Louis Landrum of the Lancaster Record; Secretary R. E.
Morningstar, of the Bowling Green News; and Executive committeemen T. C. Underwood, of the Hopkinsville New Era, and R. W. Brown, of the Louisville Times. President Moore reads an invitation from Walter Williams, commissioner to the Foreign Press for the Expon-sition, urging the Kentucky editors to attend the world's fair during Press Parliament week, beginning May 16. Mr. Ford then stated the desire of the Kentucky Exhibit Association to have the newspaper men to come to St. Louis on Kentucky Day, which would be fixed for a time to suit the Press Association. He said Thursday, June 2, had been suggested, as it is Kentucky's natal day. It was forthwith unanimously voted that the invitation of the Exhibit Association be accepted. President Moore was authorized to consult with President Ford relative to the date. This conference resulted in the selection of June 2.

It was then decided that delegates from the Press Association be appointed to represent the organization at the exposition during Press Parliament week, a forth-night before Kentucky Day, and President Moore was clothed with authority to name this delegation.
A committee to visit St. Louis, early in December to arrange with the exposition officials details as to the entertainment of the delegates during Press Parliament week and entire Association Kentucky Day appointed consisting of Messrs Moore, Landrum, Underwood and Hughes.

The coming mid winter meeting of the Press Association was next discussed. It was agreed that this meeting be held Friday, Dec. 11, 1903.

The first committee will go to St.
Louis the week prior to the mid winter meeting and give a full report at the meeting, when President Moore will also announce the delegates to the Press Parliament.
The Henderson route extended through its Traveling Passenger Agent an invitation to the Press Association to go to the exposition on Kentucky Day, via its system, and the invitation was accepted. The business meeting will be held in Louisville May 30, to June 1. One of the State's best brass bands will accompany the Association to the exposition.

DRESS AND MANNERISMS.

Changes in Styles Have Much to Do with One's Bearing.

"To those of us who are interested in the study of the ordinary phases of humanity," said the observant old gentleman, according to the St. Louis Republic, "there is perhaps nothing more astonishing than to note the change that dress brings about in one's manner. To be a little more definite, let me put it in this way: The change of style in clothes affects the mannerisms of the wearer."

"Why, I hadn't noticed it," exclaimed the hopelessly matter-of-fact person, trying to appear interested as well as surprised by the old gentleman's statement.

"Well, I suppose you are not of sufficiently advanced age to have observed the fact of which I speak," added the elderly one. "But in my case it has made quite an impression."

"Now, for instance, we will take the case of a man first. The stately, graceful deliberation of old men with the decadence of youth-taking. That you see, required time and a certain knack of the thumb and other fingers. The ease with which a cigar or a cigarette can be lighted involves no grace or charm of manner. Men in these times are brusque of manner; not the wearing of thick and clumsy shoes have something to do with it?"

"But it is in the case of women that we see the idea fully exemplified. The mannerisms of the fairer sex vary with the changes of fashion. Let me indicate a few such changes:

"Take the days when the dear things wore hoops. These gave them a mincing tread. When they sat down it was with much skill and grace that they smoothed out their skirts, because you saw a carelessly managed hoop skirt had an irritating way of flying up unless you were vigilant. But when the old 'pull back' came in there was a great difference in the walk of your lady fair. She could not walk very freely; she merely glided."

"When the bustle put in an appearance another mannerism came in with it, and every woman fluffed up her back drooping when she arose from a sitting position. "Of course, you remember how, a few years ago, when the girls had a way of pulling their veils very tightly across their faces, everyone of them became 'gimberled,' from pulling down their veils with their outstretched chins."

"It was not so very long ago that a lady would indulge in the little mannerism of picking out her huge sleeves. "Just now, take a girl that is in the least embarrassed, or let her be a little more than usually conscious of her personal appearance, and what does she do? Why, her hands automatically fly to her waistline. She gives a cautious touch to the back of her belt, and then with both hands she pushes it down in front. "There's no doubt that style brings mannerisms."

DRAINING THE ZUYDER ZEE Daring and Picturesque Engineering Project of the Dutch.

The Dutch people propose to reclaim the whole of the Zuyder Zee from the grasp of the ocean, says Walter Wellman, in McClure's. It is a vast, a daring, project, the most picturesque engineering enterprise known to the world to-day. An isthmian canal may cost more money; but an isthmian canal is, after all, only a great ditch. While other nations are seeking colonial expansion the Dutch propose to create a hinterland at home. They propose to reclaim from the waters an area equal to one-fourteenth of all the present Holland. They propose to add nearly one-tenth to the area of cultivable land in their country. They propose to find new homes, where now the sea ranges, for a population equal to four per cent. of all the inhabitants of the Netherlands. In the United States an enterprise of relative proportions would involve the creation of a new state like Missouri or Texas, the reclamation of land enough for more than three millions of people to live upon and thrive by agriculture.

Expression He Doesn't Use.

No young man ever considers his best girl too good to be true.

TAKING A DAY OFF.

Professional Men and Their Ideas of Having a Good Time.

A party of friends, men whose professions leave them little time for rest or amusement, went into the country for a 24 hours' holiday, resolutely determined to free their minds for that length of time from all ideas connected with their work, says the English Magazine.

"There's to be no talking shop," said the lawyer, "on penalty of exclusion from the company," and everyone agreed with him.

The morning was spent in a long tramp along country roads; then came a hearty dinner at noon, followed by another tramp, which was brought to a close by a heavy shower. The company returned to the inn where they were to pass the night, and found a bright fire awaiting them.

"Now let's have an evening of quiet enjoyment with these books," said the doctor. "I see there are a number here of which I've heard and that I haven't read. What do you say?"

Again everyone agreed, and presently there was no sound in the room save the crackling of the fire, the soft rustle of the pages of book or magazine, and an occasional contented sigh.

"Look here," said the lawyer, suddenly. "What's that the doctor's got inside his book?"

"Eh?" said the doctor, hurriedly, thrusting a small red book and a pencil into his pocket. "My mind had just wandered to a case of—well, never mind!"

"Come now, all of us own up what we're really doing!" said the lawyer, and it then appeared that the schoolmaster had discovered an educational report among the magazines and was reading it; the banker had been studying the stock exchange reports, and the clergyman had a slip of paper on which he was making notes for a sermon.

"How about you?" asked the doctor, turning to the last member of the party. "What are you really doing?"

"I have been reading that magazine," the lawyer said, looking at the book in his hand. "I can see if I've concealed any papers." "No, you haven't," admitted the doctor; "but it seems to open most naturally at this article, my friend," and he solemnly passed the magazine to the lawyer, who read aloud. "Some Curious Cases of Circumstantial Evidence in Criminal Trials."

LOVERS OF SWEET SCENTS.

Royalty Spends Large Sums for Rare Perfumes.

The empress of Russia spends $10,000 a year on perfumes, pastes, soaps and toilet waters, which she has sent to her exclusively from the French capital. Violet is her majesty's favorite scent, says the Detroit Free Press, but her taste in perfumes is so catholic and general that every day she vaporizes the royal apartments with the concentrated essence of lilac, jasmine, narcissus, jonquil, tuberose and white violets. It is not surprising to learn that the air is so heavily impregnated with the scent that the members of her majesty's suite are occasionally half indisposed and have to retire from her presence. The empress' toilet water is perfumed with violets, which are gathered specially at Grasse between five and seven o'clock in the evening—the time when, according to her majesty, their perfume is the most delicate. The queen mother of Spain is particularly fond of the essence of a special variety of orchid which is only found in the Philippines. But since the Spanish-American war the queen has lost her liking for this perfume, and now employs "eau d'Esmerine," specially made for her in Madrid. The queen of Romania, who is naturally proud of her white hair and her fresh complexion, which, in spite of her 60 years, does not betray a single wrinkle, attributes it to a marvelous toilet water, of which "Queen Sylvia" alone knows the secret. The water, it is added, is believed to be made from flowers gathered in an unknown forest by certain women sworn to secrecy, who collect the precious leaves under the watchful eye of a cordon of sentinels charged to keep away inquisitive intruders.

Endorsements such as this: From all over the world Are the firm foundation On which Doan's Kidney Pills Have built a reputation.

M. W. Davis, of Eades & Davis, dealers in coal on East Seventh street, at the L. & N. R., and who lives at 508 North Main street, says: "I advise the use of Doan's Kidney Pills in all cases similar to that of my son who for some time complained of backache and was troubled with a kidney weakness which was very annoying at night. We tried many different remedies and he was treated by the family physician, but nothing seemed to do him much good. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Thomas & Traher's drug store. He used them and there was a noticeable improvement in a short time. After he had taken all of the contents which had proven such an annoyance was entirely relieved. We consider Doan's Kidney Pills certainly worthy of strong endorsement."

The Best Remedy for Croup.

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolver is sure to be lost in case of burglars. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup, known as hive syrup and tulu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to "throw up" the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Cook & Higgins, druggists.

Republicans May Contest.

pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical tional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitu-

An Ancient Foe
To health and happiness is Scrofula, as ugly as ever since the immortal.
It causes bunions in the neck, disfigures the skin, inflames the mucous membrane, wastes the muscles, weakens the bones, reduces to the power of resistance to disease and the capacity for recovery, and develops into consumption.

never had any trouble of the kind since."

invited the troubles that came upon strongly behind the idea that when erican soil. The recognition of Panama should be followed by its annexation.

W. W. Lacy Dies After Few

Mr. W. W. Lacy died rather suddenly at an early hour Friday morning. He had been in the sal-

He had been suffering from rheuspent several weeks at Hot Springs last summer. The immediate cause of his death was heart trouble.

He was 57 years old and was survived by a widow and five children.
Funeral services were held at his late residence, corner Liberty and Fifth streets, Saturday morning and the interment took place in Hopewell cemetery.

His body was badly crushed, be-

Proverbs

"When the butter won't come put a penny in the churn," is an old time dairy proverb. It often seems to work though no one has ever told why.

When mothers are worried because the children do not gain strength and flesh we say give them Scott's Emulsion.

It is like the penny in the milk because it works and because there is something astounding about it.

Scott's Emulsion is simply a milk of pure cod liver oil with some hypophosphites especially prepared for delicate stomachs.

Children take to it naturally because they like the taste and the remedy takes just as naturally to the children because it is so perfectly adapted to their wants.

For all weak and pale and thin children Scott's Emulsion is the most satisfactory treatment.

We will send you

sample free.

DAY OF THANKS

Set Apart By Proclamation Of the Governor.

Thursday, November 26th, Set Apart as a General Holiday.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 13.—Gov.
Beckham this morning issued the following Thanksgiving Day proclamation:

"Commonwealth of Kentucky, Executive Department.—No people on earth have more reason to be grateful to Almighty God for His benefactions and bounties than have the people of this great republic. In less than a century and a half it has grown to be the most splendid nation the world ever saw. Beginning its existence under grievous difficulties and struggling against powerful obstacles it has placed itself in the forefront of all countries and has taught the human race valuable lessons in the art of self-government, in progress, in development, in civilization and in the betterment of man's condition.
Peace, plenty and prosperity have been given our people, and it is, therefore, a praiseworthy custom that national recognition and individual gratitude should be given to Him from whom these favors have come.

"In conformity to this custom I appoint Thursday, November 26, 1913, as a day of thanksgiving and rest throughout the Commonwealth of Kentucky, that our people, true to the spirit of this institution and thankful for their many blessings, may lay aside for the day their worldly customs and give praise to the great and good author of all our happiness. Let Kentuckians praise Him, not alone for the grandeur of our nation, but also for the success and prosperity of our own great Commonwealth.

"Let us not, in imitation of the Pharisee and hypocrite, thank Him that we are not like other people, but let us in humble gratitude to Him rejoice that our State is not surpassed by any in the Union and that its people are as good, as brave, as generous and as patriotic as any on earth.

"In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed. Done at Frankfort this 13th day of November, 1913, and in the 112th year of the Commonwealth.

Governor.

MAKING OF

A Great Newspaper Over Three Months' Work.

By a Large Staff to Produce a Single Edition.

Newspapers are so quick to follow news happenings with a full account of the accuracies that people have come to believe all newspaper processes are instantaneous.
How far from true this belief is, becomes evident to one who has been privileged to see a great edition of a metropolitan paper in course of preparation.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch is preparing to celebrate its 25th birthday on Dec. 13 the issue of a newspaper which will contain at least 124 pages and will weigh over two pounds. This newspaper will cost its publishers over 12 cents per copy but will be sold at the regular price —5 cents. The work of preparation for this enormous edition began last September, when five members of the editorial staff were detached from service on the regular editions and constituted the Anniversary Edition Council.

The first work was the formulation of plans and these having been adopted, a schedule was prepared which resembles a railway timetable. On this schedule is a space for each page and the dates each portion of the work on that page must begin and end—from the reporter and photographer to the pressman. The members of the council were assigned to divisions of the work and directed artists, photographers, reporters and stenographers in the preparation of the features for their divisions. The head of the council keeps them in such close touch that up to date the work has followed the schedule faithfully.

Eighteen color pages was planned and, as a color page occupies more than three times the time in preparation that is necessary for a black page of equal merit, the first work was on these pages. By the latter part of October all of the color pages had been completed and were in the hands of the pressman. They had gone the long road from the suggestion of the editor, the collection of material by reporters, the taking of pictures by photographers, the combination of pictures in accepted designs by artists, the engraving and the electrotyping. They were ready to be printed on the Post-Dispatch's huge four color presses.

Before November began a completed section of the anniversary edition was on the press.

The necessary paper had been brought in a special train of 10 enormous freight cars from the mills in the East and stored in the Post-Dispatch warehouse. So fast as the first section was printed on the big color presses on the first floor of the Post-Dispatch building the copies were carried by elevators to the sixth floor.

There, as soon as the printing of the second section was begun a force of men was employed "stuffing" the second section into the first; when the third section came up the elevators that was also "stuffed" and so the process will continue until all the sections of this enormous edition are combined in the completed newspaper. The total weight of this paper is 600,000 pounds. The problem of distributing is the most difficult ever presented to the circulation department of any newspaper. The edition will approximate a quarter of a million complete copies and will be read by more than one million people.

Arthur Goebel for Congress,

Goebel, brother of the late William Goebel, will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress his friend. There has been some pressure by anti Pugh men to have him enter the race. It is understood that Congressman D. Linn Goach wants a renomination.

says: "I advise the use of Doan's that of my son who for some time complained of backache and was troubled with a kidney weakness which was very annoying at night.

We tried many different remedies and he was treated by the family physician, but nothing seemed to do him much good. I feared about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box

He used them and there was a

THE OLD RELIABLE

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

SENATOR CRENSHAW.

To be In A Good Place at Frankfort.

A special from Frankfort to the Louisville Herald says:

Hubert Vreeland, Commissioner-elect of agriculture, has selected his force of deputies. R. C. Crenshaw, former State Senator from Christian county, is named as Assistant Commissioner. Crenshaw was an avowed candidate for the nomination of Commissioner of Agriculture before the Democratic State primary, but by terms of a deal consummated with Vreeland, it was agreed he should receive his present appointment, and he withdrew from the contest. The salary attached to the office of Assistant Commissioner is $1,200 per annum.

FRAUD IS CHARGED.

Republicans Will Contest the Election in Breathitt County.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Nov. 13.—T. B.
Blakey and J. P. Adams, Republican candidates for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney, respectively, in the Breathitt county district, will contest the election of Riddell and Roberts, Democrats.

The count gave Riddell a majority over Blakey of 181, while Adams was defeated by Roberts by 168 votes. Fraud of the worst kind is claimed. In one precinct in Breathitt county, which usually gives 180 Republican majority, it is claimed soldiers assisted in the count, which was not finished until 2 o'clock the morning after the election. Then an announcement was made that the Democratic candidates had won by 100 votes.

SCHOOL GIRLS RAISE CAIN.

Beat an Alleged Tale-Bearing Class Mate Unmercifully.

Baltimore, Nov. 11.—In a wild frenzy of revenge, seventy members of the graduating class of the Western high school set upon Miss Lillie Bengert, their classmate, whom they accused of being a "tale-bearer." They scratched her face until the blood ran, pulled out her hair, tore her hat to pieces, kicked her books into the gutter and then tried to tear off her clothing.

Miss Bengert finally broke away and ran, pursued by nearly 200 girls. She finally dashed into a grocery, and the clerks barred the doors until the police scattered the crowd. The rioters were fifteen to eighteen years of age, and the scene of the trouble was the most fashionable quarters of the city.

were held at the Christian church Sunday afternoon. Appropriate remarks were made by Rev. H. D. Smith, who referred to the fact that deceased had been a member of the church for 59 years. She was a noble hearted, christian woman, noted for her charity and kindness to the sick or distressed. The body friends followed it to its last resting place.

Watch the Children.

Children need a parent's closest attention in matters of health, and particularly in carefully observing that the functions of digestion are working perfectly. From the little baby to the toddling boy or the petted girl, the occasional use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will prove the greatest kind of health builder. How many of us remember during our childhood the time when the bottle of Castor Oil was taken from the shelf and father or mother coaxed us to take it. Children like Syrup Pepsin take it as they would honey. All druggists sell it.

The American Boy for November comes to us with thirty-six pages chock full of matter of interest to boys that will keep them busy for many long evenings. This number contains some particularly attractive matter. The first chapter of a story by the editor entitled, "Three Yankee boys in Ireland," being a combined story of travel and history, thoroughly illustrated, makes its appearance. Appropriate to the month are two excellent football stories—"Harding," "Substitute," and "Jack's Two Victories," with an item on "How to Train for Football."

PHARAOH'S CORN A FAKE.

Crop Proves to Have Come from Seed a Boy Planted.

Some time ago there was a wonderful story in the European journals about certain grains of ancient Egyptian corn which had been planted in Germany and had duly come to life.

The grains, they said, had been found in an Egyptian sarcophagus and had been planted by a Dresden florist. Some days later the corn appeared above ground, much to the surprise of scientists, who did not suppose that there was life in grains which were 4,000 to 5,000 years old.

The corn, however, says Stray Stories, was certainly growing, and even the most incredulous among them soon became convinced that grains have a lease of life to which there is practically no limit.

Alas! A boy employed by the Dresden florist has now confessed that he planted some ordinary grains in the same place where his master had planted the Egyptian ones and only a few hours after the florist had completed his work.

This was bad news for the scientists and for the numerous journalists who had written enthusiastically about the miracle, the qualities of the ancient grains.

Facts About the Deep Sea.

Great Britain and America do more deep sea measuring than all the other nations put together. More than one-half of the sea floor lies at a depth of a little less than three miles. Some of the deepest places are holes in the ocean bed. One of these in the South Atlantic covers 7,000,000 square miles, or seven percent of the surface of the globe. The Indian ocean is the greatest place for deep waters, 24 out of the known 43 "holes" lying at the bottom of that body of water. Sea near the coast usually slopes away gradually to a depth of 600 feet, and then drops rapidly to a depth of 6,000 feet. Variations of temperature do not extend deeper than 600 feet. Below that the temperature never varies.

A Sure Thing.

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. VanMetre, of Shepherdstown, W. Va., says: "I had a severe case of Bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It's infallible for Croup, Whooping Cough, Grip, Pneumonia and Consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by R. C. Hardwick, druggist. Trial bottles free. Regular sizes 50c and $1.00.

BUILDINGS NEVER FINISHED.

Curious History of Some Enterprises Begun Long Ago in England. A fine church in the village of Hassall, near Sandbach, has been the sport of all the winds that blow since about 1837, says Stray Stories.

Begun in 1836, and designed to seat some 500 people, it grew rapidly till shortly after the accession of Queen Victoria in the following year.

The day after that historical event the founder—a private gentleman—was seized with a fatal illness, and consequently his intentions were unfulfilled, notwithstanding that the structure was so far advanced that they have been supplied out of a small estate. Since then the building has remained unfinished.

A similar history is attached to an uncompleted church in Somerset. According to local report, too, a church at Stourport, in Worcestershire, is never to be finished, although it has been in course of construction for a very long period.

Near a railway in a certain Lancashire town, for instance, there is a row of half-built cottages. This conglomerate of bricks and mortar was thrown together many years ago by an enterprising speculator, who thought that the railway would be carried across the land which it occupies, and that he would therefore be able to sell at an excellent profit.

But his anticipations were not realized, so he left the embryo cottages to their fate. On his death his estate passed into chancery, and for this and other reasons it is extremely improbable that the property will ever be finished.

Numbers of structures now in a more or less ruinous condition are so because the builders laid their plans too hastily. A curious instance is a part of a lighthouse on the summit of St. Catherine's hill, in the Isle of Wight.

When this edifice was well advanced the tardy discovery was made that, owing to the height to which it would reach, fog or clouds would obscure the beacon at the top. The structure was consequently abandoned.

Equally curious is the history of a picturesque ruin on Mow cop, near Conington. A certain gentleman determined to build a castle on this eminence.

When it was nearly completed the owner of the adjoining estate came forward and claimed that the hill top was in his domain. So, in fact, it proved, and as a result the proposed castle remains unfinished to this day.

There are, however, some buildings which are designed in complete ruin. Near Southport stands a residence which, though it seems to be finished, always has men working on it—painters, paper-hangers, etc.

The reason it is continually in the hands of such artisans is that when it is completed it must be surrendered; so the occupier takes care that it cannot be pronounced finished. In fact, it will never be completed.

Catholics will never be really finished. Large staffs of masons, etc., are permanently engaged on them, as men are always painting the North bridge and others are repairing the Liverpool landing stage.

They Expect Rewards.

A lady doctor to an Indian hospital told of the trouble sometimes entailed in inducing the friends of a patient to allow her to remain there until she is really convalescent. Directly a sufferer is a little better they desire to take her home. Patients who remain for any length of time in hospital, commonly regard themselves as real heroines, and most peculiar of all when a patient has been preserved from almost certain death she very likely argues that this fact must greatly enhance the doctor's reputation, and so she expects a present of a gaudy cotton or silk petticoat as a reward for having afforded such an opportunity.

A Tree in a Tree.

At Moulton, South Lincolnshire, there is a willow tree which, in consequence of having been headed and having reached an old age, has become hollow and rotten. From a seed which has dropped into the hollow a healthy yewmore tree has grown to a height of ten feet.

A child of Mrs. Geo. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath, slipped back against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great agony and his mother could do nothing to soothe him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Mrs. Benson is a well known resident of Kellar, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and especially valuable for burns, cuts, bruises and sprains. For sale by Cook & Higgins, druggists.

Laffand—"Bigwate ate half the turkey, two mince pies and a quarter of the plum pudding for his Thanksgiving dinner." Groat—"You don't say! Who's his doctor? Will he get well?" "One of my children was taken with cramp colic and suffered severely," says S. B. Elize, of Moret, Mo. "I telephoned for a doctor, so she gave a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and a few minutes later a second dose. Before the doctor came the child was relieved." The Henderson Route—Always First.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 29, 1903.—The traveling public will be pleased to learn of the latest innovation in the way of comfort in travel for its patrons which is now being offered by that most popular railroad, the "Henderson Route," which road has been rightly termed the "Traveler's Official Route."

It has just been announced from the general office of the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis railway that they now have in service on their night trains between Louisville and St. Louis, Free reclining Chair Cars, which have just been received from the shops and are a revelation in the car builder's art.

The cars are strictly up to date, first-class "palaces of travel" on wheels, and which are promised the public by the Henderson Route.

Among other advantages offered in these highly finished cars are a few of the most important points only are mentioned:

They are solidly vestibuled and are furnished with sixty-four reclining chairs, which are upholstered in beautiful green plush, in addition to smoking and toilet rooms being finished throughout in leather. They are also fitted up with triple trucks, which feature will do away with the jerk, jolt and strain incident to travel in the ordinary railway coaches. This should prove more than a popular feature in train service for the traveling public, and we can only suggest that in traveling you get the "Henderson Route" habit.
